

2011 Pricing Information

Duke Mathematical Journal: Volumes 1–100 (DMJ 100) is a fully searchable electronic collection of the first 100 volumes of one of the world's leading mathematics journals. DMJ 100 is available online through Project Euclid at projecteuclid.org/dmj100 and offers electronic access to 4,830 articles published from 1935 to 1999.

Of the more than 600 mathematics journals published worldwide, only 214 reach the level of impact required to be included in the rankings of the Institute for Scientific Information. Among these, DMJ is ranked at 10, with an impact factor of 1.758 for 2009.

FEATURES ON PROJECT EUCLID INCLUDE

- searchable PDF article files
- issue-level metadata, including links from each article to MathSciNet and Zentralblatt MATH
- Mathematics Subject Classifications for each article back to 1940
- reference lists for each article, with links from each reference to MathSciNet
- COUNTER-compliant usage statistics available on the Project Euclid Web site

ACCESS

- access to article pages containing bibliographic information, links to MathSciNet, and reference listings
- full-text searches across the entire collection

PRICING MODELS

1. Subscription

The DMJ 100 collection is available by subscription. The 2011 price is $260 for one calendar year of access (January to December).

2. Outright Purchase with Maintenance

A customer may purchase DMJ 100 outright for $4,000 with an additional access/maintenance fee of $1,000 for twenty years of service (this fee, equivalent to $50 per year for twenty years, must be paid up front). Duke University Press will provide electronic access (currently via Project Euclid) for twenty years from the year of purchase. This ensures that libraries will have continuous access to the latest version of the back files, which will be upgraded over time.

AGENT AND CONSORTIUM DISCOUNTING AND TERMS

Beginning in 2011, agents and consortia will receive a commission of 5% on all DMJ 100 orders.
