PRICING MODEL

The pricing model combines a tier system based on the 2000 Carnegie Classification with usage statistics to create price categories. As no reliable usage statistics are currently available, the 2006 and 2007 e-Duke Scholarly Collection prices for all libraries will be based on median usage.

For 2008 subscriptions, once reliable 2006 usage statistics are available from HighWire Press, Duke University Press will include usage quartiles with the current tiered pricing to determine e-Duke Scholarly Collection rates. The price may increase or decrease for each institution based on their HighWire usage statistics.
