

For immediate release

March 15, 2006

For more information, contact:

Kim Steinle, Library Relations Manager

libraryrelations@dukeupress.edu

<http://www.dukeupress.edu/library>

<http://dukejournals.org>

Four-month grace period to Duke University Press online journal content concludes March 31, 2006

Duke University Press reminds subscribers that the four-month grace access to its journals' online content through HighWire Press will conclude on March 31, 2006. The four-month grace access was extended to ease the effect on Duke University Press journal subscribers of the transition from Ingenta to HighWire Press in December; access to content on Ingenta ended on December 31, 2005.

Institutions that have electronic subscriptions to Duke University Press journals content—as well as individuals who receive complimentary online access to Duke University Press journals as part of their paid print subscription—will experience interrupted access if they have not yet activated their online subscription with HighWire Press. To ensure uninterrupted access, activate your online subscription by following the instructions at <http://dukeupress.edu/journals/instructions.shtml>.

Institutions and individuals who do not have active online subscriptions to journals hosted by HighWire Press will no longer receive access. For more information or to subscribe to a HighWire hosted journal, please visit Duke University Press Journals Online at <http://dukejournals.org>. To inquire into the status of your online subscription, please contact our customer service department by visiting <http://dukejournals.org/cgi/feedback> or by calling 888-651-0122 (toll-free in the U.S. and Canada) or 919-688-5134.

Additional resources for institutions, including information regarding online activation, Ingenta-to-HighWire mapping, usage statistics, and the e-Duke Scholarly Collection, are available at the Duke University Press Library Resource Center at <http://www.dukeupress.edu/library>.

###