

Pick-and-Choose e-Books Pricing Information

This model allows institutional customers to purchase e-books title by title with volume discounts available beginning at 25 books. Institutions can choose titles from across our list of e-book content in the humanities and social sciences.

Please note this model does not replace our existing e-Duke Books and subject collection models, which offer higher per-title discounts.

This model was designed for institutions seeking the ability to curate their e-book purchases. Duke University Press e-books include titles that are foundational in their disciplines as well as important new scholarship in cutting-edge fields. Subjects where we are particularly strong include anthropology, gender studies, cultural studies, Latin American studies, and critical ethnic studies.

Hosted at read.dukeupress.edu.
